Leveled Reading

THE SEVENTH GENERATION LEVELED READING SERIES

Our Seventh Generation Leveled Reading Series is a literacy set of books that is culturally appropriate for Aboriginal Students. Each set is organized in levels that range from easy to difficult with ten titles per leveled book set. These books will be sure to challenge and inspire young readers to become good readers who not only can read but will want to read. For Aboriginal students to become good readers, we as educators, must provide them with good reading materials which they can relate to and give the teaching support that challenges them in their on-going development in reading and writing.

Sandra Samatte the author of the Seventh Generation Leveled Reading Series and The Let's Read Leveled Reading Series has a passion for literacy and for helping Aboriginal Students succeed in the literary world. The author understands the importance of familiar topics and texts for Aboriginal students. By providing this leveled reading series, students' skill base and knowledge of reading strategies will be profoundly increased.
